According to the Hungarian Government's foreign policy of "Global Opening", the Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Program was launched by the Hungarian government, offering scholarships for candidates resident in partner countries. The Call for Application for 2016/2017 academic year has been announced in January 2017. Scholarships for MA and PhD degree programs of the National University of Public Service (NUPS) are also available for students and young professionals from Romania.

NUPS has a special mission among Hungarian higher education institutions. We are preparing our students to become leaders in the field of public policy, diplomacy, law enforcement and military. I strongly believe that our MA and PhD degree programs support student's individual career development, while providing them with internationally acknowledged knowledge and best practices on public service. We offer four different types of programs for foreign students engaged to public service.

International Public Service Relations MA degree program is designed to prepare the next generation of executive leaders for central administration and diplomacy. Leaders, who are able to tackle complex geopolitical, security and sustainability challenges in international alliance. I would especially encourage young professionals to apply (already with some working experience in public service or NGOs) as they are the emerging leaders of our future. Please find the description of this program on the following link: https://issuu.com/uni\_nke/docs/ipsrma\_brochure\_online

We offer three doctoral degree programs: PhD in Public Administration Sciences, PhD in Military Sciences, PhD in Military Engineering Sciences. These programs are providing young researchers with competitive skills, knowledge and network of the European Higher Education and Research Area. We believe our PhD graduates are prepared to act as policy advisors for their national governments, or as teachers and researchers making an impact on their community. Further information on our PhD degrees is available at our homepage (<http://en.uni-nke.hu>).

Yours sincerely,
